

Resurs Bank makes management changes: recruits new CIO and appoints new COO

Sebastian Green has been recruited as the new CIO of Resurs Bank. His most recent position was as CIO of Bergendahls Food and he will take up his new duties at Resurs in the autumn of 2018.

“With his experience of pursuing strategic IT development in the retail industry at a Nordic level, Sebastian’s expertise will play an important role in Resurs’s mission to offer innovative and relationship-building payment solutions and services. Sebastian will add important expertise to our Group Management and I look forward to welcoming him to the company,” says Kenneth Nilsson, CEO.

Another change to Resurs’s Group Management will also be made at the same time. Erik Frick, who is currently CSO and responsible for the Group’s strategy function, has been appointed COO and Deputy CEO of Resurs Bank. A new CSO will not be appointed and the strategy function will now instead report to the COO.

“With this change, we are grouping the operational functions, business activities and operations under Anna Nauc ler CCO and Erik Frick COO, both of whom are Deputy CEO. The aim is to further strengthen decision-making and implementation in both our internal and external processes to thereby facilitate more efficient procedures and an enhanced customers experience,” says Kenneth Nilsson.

Peter Ros n, CFO, will continue in the position of Deputy CEO of Resurs Holding.
