

Resurs Bank launches deposit offering in Germany

Resurs Bank, a wholly owned subsidiary of Resurs Holding AB, is launching deposits for private individuals in Germany. By supplementing SEK deposits in Sweden and NOK deposits in Norway with deposits in EUR, Resurs Bank will take another step towards stronger and more diversified financing.

The Group's strategy is to actively work with various sources of financing in order to use the most suitable source of financing at any given time and to create diversified financing in the long term.

Savings accounts in Germany will be offered in partnership with Raisin. Raisin is the largest deposit platform in the European market and since it was founded in 2013 has enabled more than 150,000 customers to invest more than EUR 8 billion at competitive interest rates.
